Celeste Malone, PhD MS

Friday, November 18, 2022

8:30am to 4:00pm

Harraseeket Inn
Freeport, Maine

Presenter:

Celeste Malone, PhD, MS, President of NASP will be presenting on Making Schools a Site of Healing. Celeste is an associate professor and coordinator of the school psychology program at Howard University. She received her master's degree in school counseling from Johns Hopkins University and her doctorate in school psychology from Temple University, and she completed a postdoctoral fellowship in child clinical and pediatric psychology at the Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine. Celeste's primary research interest relates to multicultural and diversity issues embedded in the training and practice of school psychology.

Specifically, her work addresses the development of multicultural competence through education and training, diversification of the profession of school psychology, and the relationship between culturally responsive practice and pre-K–12 student outcomes. Related to her interest in professional issues in school psychology, Celeste has continuously held leadership positions in professional associations and has been recognized for her ongoing leadership and commitment to social justice in psychology by presidential recognitions from NASP, the Maryland School Psychologists' Association, and APA Division 16 School Psychology. Celeste is the 2022–2023 NASP President and, notably, is the second person of color to ever serve in this role.
